Medium

Porcelain with underglaze blue

Description

A blue and white vase with oval shaped base which tapers into a thin neck. Design on neck is broken into three bands of design. Body has a design of four people standing beside trees, one flowering and one just depicting the branches. Two of the figures are standing in front of what appears to be a large rock, and both are holding something. In the background a portion of a building is visible. AS are the leaves of what look like palm trees. The faces and bodies of the figures are somewhat crudely drawn.
