

Basic Detail Report

Wine ewer, Ding ware

Date

11th century

Medium

Glazed stoneware

Description

Stoneware globular ewer on a high foot ring. Having almost straight sides, molded and incised with large leaves, curving inwards above the foot, rather flat sloping shoulders, similarly decorated, meeting the sides at an angle, a short curving wide spout, a flat ribbon form loop handle emerging from side/ shoulder juncture to meet the wide, slightly pinched tubular neck near the center. There is a row of buttons on the handle. Coated with translucent creamy white-pale grey green glaze over a white brown flecked clay.

Dimensions

Height: 7 7/8 inches (20 cm)