

Three Seated Buddhist Figures

Medium

Stitched fabric

Description

Each of the seated figures is in a lotus position on a Lotus Throne, and dressed in red robes with girdled inner garments. The two flanking figures each have a green nimbus, while the central figure has a blue nimbus. The left hand of each of the three rests in the lap with the palm upward. The right hand of the leftmost figure is also in lap, palm up (mudra of meditation). The right hand of the central figure is touching the knee, pointing toward the ground, with the palm inward. The right hand of the right-flanking figure is held downward with palm outward, fingers curled except for extended thumb and little finger. Framed temple banner.
