

Bala Krishna (Infant Krishna Stealing Butter)

Date

16th or 17th century

Medium

Bronze

Description

The baby Krishna, according to the myths was known for liking to steal butterballs. This example shows him crawling on hand and knee with his right hand holding the butterball up to his mouth.

Dimensions

H. 2 5/8 × dia. 3 1/4 in. (6.7 × 8.3 cm)